

Why This Website

The internet has millions of pages describing various religions, their doctrines, and what they believe. When it comes to the topic of Christianity, most of these writings do not align with the Bible.

Christian Theology explains the Bible allegorically, spiritualizing Bible content outside the clear truth of the Bible message. This predominant world-wide retail religious structure influences the majority of Bible-based religions, adversely affecting millions of people who are unaware of its errors. This system of doctrines and dogma stretch back centuries to the very beginnings of the Roman religion that set the foundation for what most people believe today.

Should the Apostle Paul be with us today, he would sound the alarm, warning us of the pervasive false doctrines, the false gospels, false Jesus, false Spirit, and the false gods that dot the religious landscape of our time.

PPGpilot serves as a stand-in for the Apostle Paul, a place holder for God's ambassador who the ascended Christ sent into the world with the message and the mystery God wanted the Gentile nations to hear. The many articles you will read on this site draw attention to the modern-day wayward religions and the disparity of their teachings when compared to the Bible, saying the things Paul would say if he could.

We know what Paul would say because we know what the Apostle Paul said.
