

All the Little Children

How does a false religion endure for centuries? Answer: from generation to generation.

Christian Covenant Theology is a subtle satanic religion with the goal of perverting God's truth, and preventing people from finding God and eternal life.

Covenant religion is the foundation of the Roman Church and by extension, the Protestant religion. Covenantalism promotes religiosity to make a person feel like they have something real and spiritual, when in fact, they have nothing but an inoculation against the real thing. Essentially, it is a carnny show: a bait and switch and slide of hand. After all, Satan is the master of deception, and false religion, lies, and false gods are his specialty.

Covenant religion has perpetuated itself through the centuries, with each successive generation of adherents passing their ignorance on to their children. The passage of time gives their false teachings an undue credibility that goes unchallenged. The people in these religions are blind and cannot understand the Bible, and are incapable of seeing the truth of God, or the error of their own religion. The same can be said of their parents and their parents parents going back centuries.

Consider: it is the exact same for those children born into cult religions: Mormonism, Jehovah's Witnesses, Christian Science, the Unification Church, The Way, Pentecostalism, Charismatism, Catholicism, Evangelicalism, Amishism, the Holiness movement, and other false teachings. This includes Protestantism in all its assorted flavors: there is no difference. Nor is there a difference in the non-God worship of the cults and occults, and those parents that subject their children from their youth to a diet of atheism, agnosticism, Climate Worship, Earth Worship, Animal Worship, Wicca, or Satan Worship. God allows all these false religions to continue to the end. It is an excellent example of the parable, "the Wheat and Tares".

Fun Fact: The Christian religion is nowhere found in the Bible. This includes the Pentecostal religion, Catholicism, Evangelicalism, Lutheranism, and other religions under the Protestant umbrella. These are all made-up religions, created with words from the Bible taken out of context, and / or superstitions, traditions, imaginations, errant practices, stories, fables and extra-biblical writings, all without biblical support. Mormonism was created the same way.

The children are taught lies as truth. Almost every one of these souls will carry their error with them their entire life, teaching it to the next generation, all with the best of intentions, believing they are absolutely right, and that they are saving the souls of the kids. This has been happening for centuries and continues to this day to the tune of billions past and billions present. The lies become absolute truth in their minds simply due to the passage of time. Just ask the Amish.

Question: What difference is there between the false religions of Christian Covenant Theology, the false religions of the cults, and the false religions of the occults? Do you notice that none of these religions are over-run with frogs? In fact, they are all doing quite well. Altogether, there are billions of adherents in these errant beliefs. Does God bless the apostate Covenant religion of Christianity just because they call on the name of some fictitious god of their own making, all the while waving a King James Bible they cannot possibly understand, worshiping a phony Jesus and despising God's chosen people, the Jews?

Anyone growing up in any of these satanic, false religions, whether they worship a false image of the one true God, a false understanding of God, or deny God, or hate God: none have God's blessings, do not have God's Spirit, His enlightenment, or the understanding that follows these things. Their religions, with their prayers and rituals, are futile, and the people deceived, infected with Satan's brand of religion that hides the true God and God's truth from them, all the while offering them a poor substitute in a cheap, worthless imitation.

Satan doesn't care which of the thousands of religions people chose as all roads lead to the same dead end: an eternity without God. Satan doesn't care which god or goddess you choose to worship, so long as it is not the One True God.

The one and only thing that works in our world is a relationship with God and the Spirit He gives to all who love Him.

Parents, what are you teaching your children?
