

Do We Worship Jesus

We worship God our creator.

God created us that He might have fellowship with us and us with Him. The word “might” refers to our free will. This relationship is a two-way street. While God is willing, and has done everything possible to restore you to Him, we have the freedom to say no; to have that relationship or not.

Our fellowship with God ended in the Garden of Eden with the transgression of Adam and Eve. Our first parents were innocent until they transgressed God’s sole command and ate from the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil. Surprise, they knew good and evil. We know good and evil. As a result, they lost their innocence and became sinful before God. This created a separation between God and man that carried on throughout the entire 6000-year history of humanity. Fortunately, God had a plan to rescue mankind.

God Himself came to earth as the man Jesus to pay the penalty for our sin; to take upon Himself the righteous condemnation of death that He placed on mankind. Christ suffered that separation from God and died in our place that we might live before God. Through Christ’s sacrifice, we can be reconciled to God. God took the first step. It’s now up to us.

I Timothy 2:5 For [there is] one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

God is the focus of our worship, and our worship to God is because of Jesus and His death on our behalf. Our worship is to God through Jesus, but it is God our creator and redeemer that we worship.

The problem today are the many false religions that create a false Jesus; making it a false god, displacing our worship of the one true God. This is just one of Satan’s ploys to ruin humanity and keep us from God, and denying us our fellowship with our Creator, and preventing our receiving the Spirit of God, the new Spiritual life, and the truth.

Christ died for our sin nature, and to bring reconciliation between God and man. But Christ’s sacrifice is of no use if we do not choose God. Satan knows this, and duping the world with his false Jesus, and a bunch of out of context Bible verses, is the Devils attempt to nullify Christ’s sacrifice: just like it never happened. It is a true tragedy that hundreds of millions of “Christians” fall for this phony Jesus-god ruse, and have nothing but an empty religion based on misunderstood Bible words, but nothing real. Truly deceived.

Don’t be fooled. Don’t allow Satan to ruin your life on earth with his false god, and take away your eternity in Heaven. Don’t let your lack of “receiving the truth so as to be saved” condemn you to the approaching Tribulation.

The time of man on earth is almost gone. Turn to the one true God before it is too late, and He will open your eyes and reveal the truth.
